FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT FOR COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

JURY TRIAL REQUESTED

Plaintiff submits its first amended complaint against Defendants:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiff brings this action in an effort to stop Defendants and others from copying and distributing to others unauthorized copies of the Plaintiff's copyrighted motion picture through the BitTorrent file sharing protocol. Defendants' infringements allow them and others to

1 unlawfully obtain and distribute unauthorized copyrighted works that the Plaintiff expended 2 significant resources to create. Each time a Defendant unlawfully distributes an unauthorized 3 copy of the Plaintiff's copyrighted motion picture to others over the Internet, each person who 4 copies that motion picture can then distribute that unlawful copy to others without any significant 5 degradation in sound and picture quality. Thus, a Defendant's distribution of even a part of an 6 unlawful copy of a motion picture can further the nearly instantaneous worldwide distribution of 7 that single copy to an unlimited number of people. Further, Defendants acts of distributing 8 Plaintiff's motion picture support, maintain and further a for-profit exploitation of the works of 9 Plaintiff and others. The Plaintiff now seeks redress for this rampant infringement of its 10 exclusive rights.

II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12 2. This is a civil action seeking damages and injunctive relief for copyright 13 infringement under the copyright laws of the United States (17 US.C. § 101 et seq.).

14 3. This Court has jurisdiction under 17 US.C. § 101 et seq.; 28 US.C. § 1331 15 (federal question); and 28 US.C. § 1338(a) (copyright).

16 4. Venue in this District is proper under 28 US.C. § 1391(b) and/or 17 28 U.S.C. §1400(a). Although the true identity of each Defendant is unknown to Plaintiff at this 18 time, on information and belief each Defendant may be found in this District and/or a substantial 19 part of the acts of infringement complained of herein occurred in this District. On information 20 and belief, personal jurisdiction in this District is proper because each Defendant, without 21 consent or permission of Plaintiff as exclusive rights owner, distributed and offered to distribute 22 over the Internet copyrighted works for which Plaintiff has exclusive rights.

III. PARTIES

A. PLAINTIFF AND ITS COPYRIGHT

5. Plaintiff Criminal Productions, Inc. is a developer and producer of the motion picture Criminal for theatrical exhibition, home entertainment and other forms of distribution. The motion picture was first published April 15, 2016.

6. Criminal is protected by the Copyright Act in motion picture Registration No. PA 1-984-029, effective April 15, 2016. (Exhibit A)

7. Under the Copyright Act, Plaintiff is the proprietor of all right, title and interest in Criminal, including the exclusive rights to reproduce and distribute to the public as well as the right to sue for past infringement.

8. Criminal contains wholly original material that is copyrightable subject matter under the laws of the United States. It is an action thriller directed by Ariel Vromen and stars Kevin Costner, Ryan Reynolds and Gal Gadot, among others. It is easily discernible as a professional work as it was created using professional performers, directors, cinematographers, lighting technicians, set designers and editors and with professional-grade cameras, lighting and editing equipment. It has significant value and has been created, produced and lawfully distributed at considerable expense. Criminal is currently offered for sale in commerce, playing in theaters and available for rental and/or purchase from Amazon, iTunes and Netflix, among others.

9. Defendants have notice of Plaintiff's rights through general publication and advertising and more specifically as identified in the content of the motion picture, advertising associated with the motion picture, and all packaging and copies, each of which bore a proper copyright notice.

B. DEFENDANTS

10. Upon information and belief, each Defendant copied and distributed Plaintiff's copyrighted motion picture Criminal. When originally filed, the true names of Defendants were

1 unknown to Plaintiff. Rather, each Defendant was known to Plaintiff only by the Internet 2 Protocol (“IP”) address assigned by an Internet Service Provider (“ISP”) and the date and at the 3 time at which the infringing activity of each Defendant was observed. On information and belief, 4 ISP’s such as Comcast or CenturyLink generally assign an IP address to a single party for 5 extended periods of time, often for months or even years. As such it is likely that for all relevant 6 times each Defendant was the sole party responsible for and in control of IP address. As 7 explained in further detail below, through geolocation, the IP address used by each Defendant 8 has was traced to the Western District of Washington. The IP addresses, hash value, dates and 9 times, ISP and geolocation contained in Exhibit B correctly reflect the subscribers using the IP 10 addresses that were all part of a “swarm” of users that were reproducing, distributing, displaying 11 and/or performing the copyrighted work.

12. In addition, the Court authorized Plaintiff to conduct expedited discovery with the 13 ISP that assigned the IP addresses to each Defendant in this case. Plaintiff promptly served the 14 subpoena on the ISP. The ISP subsequently responded to the subpoena providing the identity of 15 each Defendant, where available.

16. After receipt of the identity of each Defendant, Plaintiff engaged in further due 17 diligence in a good faith effort to confirm, on information and belief, that the identified 18 subscriber was the person responsible for the infringing conduct or, in the alternative, that 19 another party with access to the IP address of the subscriber was responsible. For example, each 20 IP address has been observed associated with significant BitTorrent activity and with the 21 exchange of multiple other titles on peer-to-peer networks apart from but in some instances close 22 in time to that of motion picture in this case. The volume, titles and persistent observed 23 BitTorrent activity associated with each Defendant’s IP address indicate (a) that each Defendant 24 is not a transitory or occasional guest, but either the primary subscriber of the IP address or 25 someone who resides with the subscriber and is an authorized user of the IP address; (b) that any 26 user of the IP address would likely have been aware of the bandwidth devoted to this activity

LOWE GRAHAM JONES PLLC

1 through general service slowdown throughout the observed period of activity as residential data 2 services typically have limited capacity; (c) that such subscriber or resident of the location is 3 likely to have been aware of at least some of the infringing activity throughout the observed 4 period of activity; and/or (d) that each Defendant is not a child, but more likely an adult, often 5 with mature distinct tastes.

6 13. In certain instances, the pattern of BitTorrent activity associated with the IP 7 address may have been observed to cease on or near dates coinciding with notices sent by the 8 ISP or Plaintiff, providing a further indication that the subscriber either was the infringer or was 9 award of the ongoing infringement utilizing the IP address assigned to the subscriber, and was in 10 a position to control ongoing BitTorrent activity.

11 14. Google address mapping and/or county records were investigated to confirm 12 ownership/rental status of and residence at the property associated with the IP address, as well as 13 observe the physical makeup and layout of the house and neighborhood to anticipate possible 14 claims that a wireless signal was high jacked by someone outside of the residence. Further, given 15 the standard security measures imposed by the ISP to prevent unauthorized use of an IP address, 16 the volume of piracy demonstrated over the extended observation period could not be the result 17 of someone driving by, a temporary houseguest or a hacker sitting in a car on the street

18 15. In some instances, social media sites such as Facebook and LinkedIn were used to 19 obtain further information on the subscriber.

20 16. Finally, in an exercise of caution, multiple letters were sent to the identified 21 individual, or their counsel to the extent Plaintiff was made aware thereof, informally requesting 22 their voluntary participation in identifying the actual infringer, to the extent that is different from 23 the subscriber. Where responses were received, Plaintiff attempted further informal follow-up 24 with the subscriber or their attorney, again in an effort to ensure, as much as possible short of 25 formal litigation proceedings, that each Doe Defendant was properly named.

1       17. Based on the investigation to date, and on information and belief, Plaintiff
 2 identifies the Does remaining in this case on information and belief as follows:

 4 Plaintiff's motion picture at that time. On information and belief, Defendant resides at the noted 5 location.

6 IV. PEER-TO-PEER NETWORKS AND THE BITTORRENT PROTOCOL

7 30. Defendants are participants in a peer-to-peer ("P2P") network using the 8 BitTorrent protocol. The BitTorrent protocol makes even small computers with low bandwidth 9 capable of participating in large data transfers across a P2P network. To begin an exchange, the 10 initial file-provider intentionally elects to share a file with a torrent network. This initial file is 11 called a seed. Other users ("peers") connect to the network and connect to the seed file to 12 download. As yet additional peers request the same file each additional user becomes a part of 13 the network from where the file can be downloaded. However, unlike a traditional peer-to-peer 14 network, each new file downloader is receiving a different piece of the data from users who have 15 already downloaded the file that together comprises the whole. This piecemeal system with 16 multiple pieces of data coming from peer members is usually referred to as a "swarm." The 17 effect of this technology makes every downloader also an uploader of the illegally transferred 18 file(s). This means that every "node" or peer user who has a copy of the infringing copyrighted 19 material on a torrent network can also be a source of download, and thus distributor for that 20 infringing file.

21 31. This distributed nature of BitTorrent leads to a rapid viral spreading of a file 22 throughout peer users. As more peers join the swarm, the likelihood of a successful download 23 increases. Essentially, because of the nature of the swarm downloads as described above, every 24 infringer is sharing copyrighted material with other infringers.

25 32. Defendants actions are part of a common design, intention and purpose to hide 26 behind the apparent anonymity provided by the Internet and the BitTorrent technology to 1 download pieces of the copyrighted motion picture in a manner that, but for the investigative 2 technology used by Plaintiff, would be untraceable, leaving the Plaintiff without the ability to 3 enforce its copyright rights. By participating in the “swarm” to download Plaintiff’s copyright

 4 motion picture, the Defendants agreed with one another to use the Internet and BitTorrent 5 technology to engage in violation of federal statute to accomplish and unlawful objective.

6 V. COMPUTER FORENSIC IDENTIFICATION OF BITTORRENT INFRINGEMENT

7 33. Plaintiff has identified each Defendant by the IP address assigned by the ISP used 8 by each Defendant and the date and at the time at which the infringing activity of each Defendant 9 was observed. This is accomplished using forensic software to collect, identify and record the IP 10 addresses in use by those people that employ the BitTorrent protocol to share, copy, reproduce 11 and distribute copyrighted works.

12 34. More specifically, forensic software is used to scan peer-to-peer networks for the 13 presence of infringing transactions with respect to a particular audiovisual work. Any digital 14 copy of an audiovisual work may be uniquely identified by a unique, coded, string of characters 15 called a “hash checksum.” The hash checksum is a string of alphanumeric characters generated 16 by a mathematical algorithm known as US Secure Hash Algorithm 1 or “SHA-1.” This software 17 facilitates the identification of computers that are used to transmit a copy or a part of a copy of a 18 digital media file identified by a particular hash value by their IP address at a particular date and 19 time. To overcome concerns with spoofing or the like, a direct TCP connection is made to each 20 defendant’s computer. Additional software using geolocation functionality is then used to 21 confirm the geographical location of the computer used in the infringement. Though an IP 22 address alone does not reveal the name or contact information of the account holder, in this case 23 the Doe Defendant, it does reveal the likely general location of the Defendant. IP addresses are 24 distributed to ISPs by public, nonprofit organizations called Regional Internet Registries. These 25 registries assign blocks of IP addresses to ISPs by geographic region. In the United States, these 26 blocks are assigned and tracked by the American Registry of Internet Numbers. Master tables

1 correlating the IP addresses with local regions are maintained by these organizations in a 2 publicly available and searchable format. An IP address' geographic location can be further 3 narrowed by cross-referencing this information with secondary sources such as data contributed 4 to commercial databases by ISPs.

5 35. The end result are evidence logs of infringing transactions and the IP addresses of 6 the users responsible for copying and distributing the audiovisual work, here Criminal. The IP
 7 addresses, hash value, dates and times, ISP and geolocation contained in Exhibit B correctly
 8 reflect the subscribers using the IP addresses and that they were all part of a "swarm" of users 9 that were reproducing, distributing, displaying or performing the copyrighted work.<sup>1</sup> As noted 10 above, through early discovery authorized by the Court, Plaintiff was able to identify the Does 11 associated with the IP addresses observed infringing activity in this case.

12 VI. JOINDER

13 36. Each Defendant is alleged to have committed violations of 17 U.S.C. § 101 14 et. seq. within the same series of transactions or occurrences (e.g. downloading and distribution 15 of the same copyrighted motion picture owned by Plaintiff) and by using the same means 16 (BitTorrent network). The infringed work was included in one file related to the torrent file; in 17 other words, all of the infringements alleged in this lawsuit arise from the exact same unique 18 copy of Plaintiff's movie as evidenced by the cryptographic hash value. The Defendants are all 19 part of the exact same "swarm." Defendants' acts occurred in the same series of transactions 20 because each Defendant downloaded and/or distributed, or offered to distribute Criminal to other 21 infringers on the network, including the Doe Defendants and/or other network users, who in turn

 23 <sup>1</sup> In logs kept in the ordinary course of business, ISPs keep track of the IP addresses assigned to their 24 subscribers. Once provided with an IP address, plus the date and time of the detected and documented infringing 25 activity, ISPs can use their subscriber logs to identify the subscriber with more specificity. Only the ISP to whom a 26 particular IP address has been assigned for use by its subscribers can correlate that IP address to a particular subscriber. From time to time, a subscriber of Internet services may be assigned different IP addresses from their ISP. Thus, to correlate a subscriber with an IP address, the ISP also needs to know when the IP address was being used. Unfortunately, many ISPs only retain for a very limited amount of time the information necessary to correlate an IP address to a particular subscriber, making early discovery important.

1 downloaded and/or distributed the motion picture. The temporal proximity of the observed acts 2 of each Defendant, together with the known propensity of BitTorrent participants to actively 3 exchange files continuously for hours and even days, makes it possible that Defendants either 4 directly exchanged the motion picture with each other, or did so through intermediaries and each 5 shared in the distribution of the motion picture to others. Therefore, Defendants each conspired 6 with other infringers on the BitTorrent network to copy and/or distribute Criminal, either in the 7 same transaction or occurrence or a series of transactions or occurrences.

8 37. To use BitTorrent, a user intentionally downloads a program that they then install 9 on their computer called a “client.” The BitTorrent client is the user’s interface during the 10 downloading/uploading process. The client may be free, supported by advertising, offer upgrades 11 or add on services for a fee, or a combination of several options. Users then intentionally visit a 12 “torrent site” or network site to find media or content available for download, often using a 13 standard web browser. A torrent site is often advertising revenue or subscription supported index 14 of media or content being made available by other users on the network and maintains a listing 15 of movies and television programs among other protected content. A user then uses the torrent 16 site to connect with other users and exchange or “share” content though the BitTorrent protocol 17 often with many users at the same time.

18 38. Internet piracy, and in particular BitTorrent piracy, though known as peer-to-peer 19 file sharing, is often a for-profit business as many software clients, torrent sites and networks 20 generate millions of dollars in revenue through sales and advertising. To increase the value of the 21 advertising and sometimes subscription access sold by torrent sites, many torrent sites work to 22 expand the pool of available titles and speed of downloads through increasing the number of 23 member peers and thus the desirability of their clients and networks. To accomplish this, they 24 reward participants who contribute by giving them faster download speeds, greater access, or 25 other benefits.

1       39. A significant element of the BitTorrent economic model is that those who 2 participate and download movies not only share and upload movies with others, but participants 3 are often rewarded through various means based on the volume and availability of content 4 participants in turn provide the network. In sum, there is a feedback incentive for participants as 5 they obtain not only the benefit of their pirated copy of a movie, but they obtain other benefits by 6 increasing the availability of pirated content to others. As such there are a growing number of 7 users that participate in peer-to-peer networks and receive personal gain or compensation in that 8 the networks they use reward those who provide large numbers of files for upload to others.

9       40. The use of BitTorrent does more than cause harm through the theft of intellectual 10 property. The BitTorrent distribution of pirated files is a model of business that profits from theft 11 through sales and advertising and a system of rewards and compensation to the participants, each 12 of whom contribute to and further the enterprise. Each Defendant is a participant in the 13 BitTorrent distribution of pirated files and the substantially similar conduct of each Defendant 14 furthered a model of business that profits from theft of intellectual property including Plaintiff's 15 motion picture.

16       41. Accordingly, pursuant to Fed.R.Civ.P. 20(a)(2) each of the Defendants is 17 therefore properly joined at least because: (a) the infringement complained of herein by each of 18 the Defendants was part of a series of transactions involving an identical copy of Plaintiff's 19 copyrighted work; (b) the conduct of each Defendant jointly and collectively supported and 20 advanced an economic business model of profiting from the piracy of Plaintiff's copyrighted 21 work; (c) there are common questions of law and fact; and (c) each Defendant knowingly and 22 actively participated in a conspiracy to perform an illegal act and/or injure Plaintiff through use 23 of the BitTorrent protocol to infringe Plaintiff's copyrighted work.

24       42. Permissive joinder in the instant case is to permit a more efficient management of 25 Plaintiff's claims against the several Defendants and to reduce the costs to Plaintiff and 26 Defendants and to reduce the costs and burdens on the Court. Notice is provided, that on being

 2 Defendant that claims prejudice in being joined in this matter and to proceed against each such 3 Defendant individually.

4 VII. CAUSE OF ACTION—COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT

5 43. Plaintiff realleges the substance of the prior paragraphs.

6 44. Plaintiff owns the exclusive rights to the commercially released motion picture 7 Criminal, which has significant value and has been acquired, produced and created at 8 considerable expense.

9 45. At all relevant times Plaintiff has been the holder of the pertinent exclusive rights 10 infringed by Defendants to the copyrighted motion picture Criminal. The motion picture is the 11 subject of a valid Certificate of Copyright Registration.

12 46. Plaintiff is informed and believes that each Defendant, without the permission or 13 consent of Plaintiff, has used, and continues to use, an online media distribution system to 14 wrongfully misappropriate, reproduce and distribute to the public, including by making available 15 for distribution to others, Criminal. On information and belief, each Defendant participated in a 16 swarm and/or reproduced and/or distributed the same seed file of Criminal in digital form either 17 directly with each other. Plaintiff has identified each Defendant by the IP address assigned to that 18 Defendant by his or her ISP and the date and at the time at which the infringing activity of each 19 Defendant was observed.

20 47. In addition, or in the alternative, Defendants obtained Internet access through an 21 ISP and permitted, facilitated and materially contributed to the extensive use of the Internet 22 through his ISP for infringing Plaintiff's exclusive rights under The Copyright Act by others.
 23 Defendants, with knowledge of the infringing conduct, failed to reasonably secure, police and
